

Senior Consultant: Process

Life Sciences, USA

WCI Consulting Limited is a management consultancy operating in the Life Sciences sector. Our clients are leading life science organisations including those working in: Pharmaceuticals, Biotechnology, Consumer Health, Medical Devices, and Dietary Supplements.

Growing demand requires the continuing expansion of our consulting team. Our current assignments focus on enhancing performance in a range of heavily regulated business activities, including:

- Patient Safety and Pharmacovigilance
- Risk Management
- Quality and Compliance

Key to our success with our clients is our knowledge of their environment and our ability to work with them to implement operational improvements which, in turn, reduce complexity and improve compliance.

About the Role

We are looking for an experienced Senior Consultant to lead both single and multi-stream programs for our clients. Candidates should be degree qualified and must have some experience of the heavily regulated business processes in the Life Science industry.

Requirements

- Three to Seven years of business consulting experience with a recognized practice
- A strong understanding of business processes and/or organizational development
- A good understanding of how technology supports business results
- Strong client relationship skills
- Project/Program management skills with a track record of achieving project delivery to time, on budget, and with clear client benefits
- Highly developed facilitation skills
- A working knowledge of managing change
- You should be comfortable in working in multi-disciplinary teams, including client personnel
- Some business experience prior to consulting is advantageous
